2 percent of Kenya's GDP over a three year period; and 12.8 percent of the GDP over a five year period as published in the Kenyan budget," he wrote. As a result, VZ wrote, the office of the Auditor General's Office "has been tasked to investigate the 2017 budget as well as the 2019 budget" to ascertain how money was spent on the presidential plane. "In addition to the Auditor General's Office, the President of the Republic has also tasked the Directorate of Budget and Fiscal Management to also investigate on the matter as well as the National Treasury," he said. Despite these requests, the Ministry of Finance has so far failed to provide the information VZ has sought. "I have also learnt that the information about the office of the Auditor General, Director of Budget and Fiscal Management, National Treasury and Directorate of Budget and Fiscal Management, to name a few, have failed to provide to me such information," he said. VZ said he was frustrated with the "lack of transparency" and the inability of the "fuelled by the President's brother, to provide him with information about the office of the Auditor General, Director of Budget and Fiscal Management, National Treasury, and the Directorate of Budget and Fiscal Management." "There is no point making calls as the answers you get are not satisfactory to answer the question. I am calling upon the Office of the Auditor General, Directorate of Budget and Fiscal Management, National Treasury, and Director of Budget and Fiscal Management to provide me with the information that I have requested in a timely fashion as this is in the public interest." However, Information Chief Clerk Jacob Mwiru has since responded to a similar request from this paper, offering to provide the information VZ has sought. "I am able to provide you with the information you requested but you must understand that this is the first and the only time I have heard of such a request," he told VZ in an email yesterday. "I will not deny you the information you have requested, and I am sure it will not be the last time you do this, but I will not answer you as I have already made a point on what I will do and will not do," he wrote. Mwiru said in response to other request from VZ, that 82157476af
